LIFE-SAVING GLOBE

New York, Nov. 19.—Another test has been given the life-saving globe invented for use in shipwrecks by Captain Donvig, a Norwegian, says a Herald dispatch from London. The object of this test was to ascertain how the craft would behave in heavy seas.

While a sea was running in which it was declared no lifeboat could live, the globe was towed by a tug from Dover harbor into the channel. In order that the apparatus should be as near as possible in the same condition as it would be if used in case of shipwreck, it was weighted with sand bags, which, with four men who were in the globe, made the weight equivalent to that of twenty men and thirty days' provisions.

The globe, without its crew, was first towed out to sea, between Dover and the South Foreland. The strong wind raised terrific seas. Several times the tug was caught in the trough and her decks were completely awet, so that it was necessary to batten down all the hatches. But the globe rode over the waves like a cork. Finally, it was towed into quiet water, where Captain Donvig, accompanied by three Dover seamen, went aboard. They fastened the manhole and the globe was again towed to sea.

When the full force of the wind and seas was experienced Captain Donvig signaled through the manhole to cast off the two rope. The globe, left to itself, bobbed about in the heavy seas, but showed no inclination to roll over.
 After tossing about for ten or fifteen minutes Captain Donvig and one of the sailors emerged from the manhole, and lashing themselves to the outside of the globe, set a small sail which they pulled through the manhole with them. The air funnel was used as a mast and the queer craft was navigated back to the harbor, a distance of several miles.

LADY DUDLEY, WIFE OF IRELAND'S NEW LORD LIEUTENANT

FORESTS OF HAWAII NEI GARRIE THE SMASHER

WASHINGTON REPORT ON OUR FOREST RESERVES

NEED OF EXPERT FORESTERS AND THOROUGH SCHEME OF CONSERVING THE WATER
 SOURCES HERE.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The Hawaiian Islands are in need of foresters, and eager to secure them. Governor Dole, who sees the immediate necessity of caring for the island forests, has applied to the Bureau of Forestry for expert men, to be sent as soon as they can be spared.

The mountains are overrun by both wild and tame cattle, which graze and trample on young trees and destroy the ferns that protect the ground. When this ground cover is removed the soil rapidly loses its moisture and the forest dies. Great areas of Hawaiian forest have been utterly destroyed in this way.

The disappearance of so much forest on the island of Hawaii has caused remarkable changes in the flow of the streams. There are freshets and floods now, followed by long, dry seasons when the water does not run. Since much of the sugar crop depends entirely on irrigation, and since the irrigating ditches must draw their water from the mountain streams, the damage done the forest affects the prosperity of the whole island.

Forestry in Hawaii has never been attempted by the Government, and the field will be an entirely new one. It will have the support and confidence of the people, who are eager for relief from the harm done them by the failure of their irrigating ditches to supply the sugar crops.

On the island of Molokai—the leper island—still more remarkable conditions prevail in the forest. There the timber is prized and trampled to death not by wild cattle alone but by herds of red deer, descended from those that were imported from England to stock parks. The deer imported propagated beyond the calculations of the inhabitants, escaped to the woods, and, since there are no animals to prey upon them, have increased to many thousands. The American forester who undertakes the care of the timber of Molokai will have a problem entirely novel to his experience—the protection of forests from wild animals.

E. M. Griffith, of the Bureau of Forestry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, who visited the Hawaiian Islands on his way to the Philippines last winter, returned a report to Governor Dole in which he said the mountain forests of Hawaii must be fenced, on the lower slopes to protect them from the tame cattle, on the upper slopes to keep out the wild ones. He also recommended the establishment of a forest force, consisting of a forest inspector, who would have charge of all Government forest lands and direct the work of the forest rangers; and four forest rangers, one for the island of Oahu, one for Hawaii, one for Kauai, and one for Maui and Molokai.
